Notice boards

These are a good source of information for members and are normally split up into different categories. Some notices are there for information but others require your input, such as signing up for matches, entering competitions and updates for handicaps following competitions.

Handicaps

If an existing golf club member obtains a handicap certificate with his unique ID No, he/she can be immediately added to Tynemouth's Home player list. If you do not have a current handicap certificate but held a handicap at another club, they will release your unique ID to you.

If you do not have a handicap you will need to submit 3 cards to the secretary's office. Once you have a handicap at Tynemouth GC you can play in competitions.

Website: www.tynemouthgolfclub.com

Tynemouth Golf Club's website covers a range of information for both visitors and members.

There is a members section and online tee booking facilities. If you would like access to the members' section of our website, and the members' online booking system, let us have your email address so that it can be registered for this purpose.

Dress Codes & General Club Rules

A reasonable standard of dress must be maintained at all times eg "Smart Casual". This does not include the following:- Sports Shorts, tracksuits or football tops, sleeveless shirts.

An important part of Tynemouth Golf Club membership is that members are aware of club rules and abide by them, they are there to make the game more enjoyable and to help with the smooth running of the club so that everyone understands the do's and the don'ts.

Tee Times & Reservations

Tee reservations are done via the "BRS" online booking system which as a member of the club you will have access to.

Tee reservations are usually for competitions and visiting parties and members can usually play when they want outside of these times. Members need to be aware that visiting parties are an important income for the golf club and need to be made welcome as it may subsidise the yearly membership subscriptions.

Other Information

To determine if the course is closed or if there are any restrictions to play, this will be displayed on the home page of the website or on Option 1 on the telephone system.

If you are new to the club and are looking for a game, there is a list in the entrance lobby to the Men's locker room on which you can add your name. There is also a link on the members section of the website.

The Golf Course & Outdoor Facilities

Courses are often referred to as Links, Parkland, and Heathland or Woodland courses. Tynemouth Golf Club is a Parkland Course: -

Parkland Inland and often set in amongst mature trees. They may have ponds and other water hazards and the holes often meander through the trees.

Links

On the coast, normally few trees but lots of bunkers, well-draining and firmer under foot. Wind is normally a main factor when playing.

Heathland On sandier land inland, normal features are gorse bushes, bunkers, heather and fewer trees.

Woodland The holes tend to be lined with many trees and the other holes are therefore hidden from view.

Tees

Tees are the starting point of a golf hole, normally a flat piece of land, which is mown neatly and may be called the Tee Box. The teeing area is identified by two markers, these vary and are coloured to show which tees should be used by who:

White

Medal competitions for men, some clubs also allow them to be used during the summer months for casual golf.

Yellow

Everyday use for the men, some clubs use for competitions.

Red

Normally for ladies' everyday use and competitions.

Tee Furniture

Refers to signs on the tee, which show the hole number, the length of the hole in yards and the stroke index of the hole (the stroke index determines where a golfer with a handicap gets their shots on the course – see Handicapping section).

Fairways

Closely mown grass areas that go from in front of the teeing area and up to the green. Semi rough and then deeper rough normally surround the fairway. The rough is grass cut longer than the fairway and is intended to penalise players that miss the fairway.

The Green

The area that you are trying to get the ball onto, as this is where the hole is situated. They are well maintained areas of grass that are mown very low so that they are a smooth surface for putting on.

They vary in size and shape and have differing levels of slope. The hole location on a green is moved by the greens staff on a regular basis.

Hazards

Occur as golf courses are made up of many different features, trees, length of grass, bunkers, water and bushes. If you hit your ball straight, it is rare to encounter hazards but if you go off line they come into play. They break up the landscape but also make golfers manage their way around the course. Some brief descriptions of hazards you may encounter are shown on the opposite page:

Bunkers

A hazard consisting of a prepared area of ground, often a hollow, from which turf or soil has been removed and replaced with sand or the like.

Water Hazards

Any sea, lake, pond, river, ditch, surface drainage, ditch or other open water course (whether or not containing water) and anything of a similar nature on the course.

Lateral water hazard

A water hazard or part of a water hazard so situated that it is not possible, or is deemed by the committee to be impracticable, to drop a ball behind the water hazard in accordance with the rules.

Rough

Grass grown longer than that on the fairway.

Local Rules

Local rules are specific to your club and it is important that you make yourself aware of them as they may have an influence on the interpretation of the rules of golf. They are in place for local features such as young trees that may be staked and therefore you may get a free drop.

The Scorecard Explained

Remember once you have filled your card in with your name, date, competition, handicap, shots received and course/tees played then exchange your card with one of your playing partners.

Each hole has a number, or score listed for it, which is called Par. Depending on the length of a hole, it may be rated as Par 3, Par 4 or Par 5 and you can use the Par standard to help measure your own skill on different holes.

(Score card visual and notations not included in this document)

Handicapping

The purpose of a Council of National Golf Union (CONGU) Unified Handicapping System is to enable all golfers to be able to compete on a fair and equitable level, regardless of skill, males and females alike. Affiliated golf club members can obtain an official CONGU handicap, which allows entry into club competitions and access onto other courses. More information on CONGU can be found at www.congu.com

What is a handicap and why do I need one?

A golfer's handicap is a number assigned to him/her, which defines their skill/ability level. A handicap gives all standards of golfers an opportunity to play together or compete against one another on an equal level. In a stroke play event, a golfer's handicap is deducted from his/her "gross" score (total shots taken) to provide a "nett" figure (total shots taken minus handicap). In a match play event, a player's handicap determines how many shots they will either give to, or receive from, an opponent.

Golfers are divided into the following categories:

Category 1 – handicaps of 5 or less

Category 2 – handicaps of 6 to 12

Category 3 – handicaps of 13 to 20

Category 4 – handicaps of 21 to 28
Category 5 – handicaps of 29 to 36
Category 6 – handicaps of 37 to 54

Clubs may also operate a Junior Handicapping Scheme. They may issue handicaps from 29 to 54 for boys and girls. As and when juniors improve, they feed into the male and female handicap categories as above.

Further details can be found at www.congu.com.

How to obtain your first handicap:

An affiliated club member can be allotted an official CONGU handicap. Although clubs have different rules, in general a player must submit a minimum of 3 cards over 18 holes, which are signed by someone the club deems responsible. A handicap will then be allotted based on the best of these 3 cards.

How do I improve my handicap?

A player should complete a handicap qualifying round (the handicap committee will stipulate whether a round can be classed as "qualifying") and return a nett score (gross score minus handicap) that is less than the competition scratch score (CSS). The CSS is a figure that is calculated after each handicap qualifying round.

If the player beats the CSS by a stroke or more their handicap will be cut. For each shot, which finishes below the CSS, a player's handicap will come down as follows:

Category 1 – 0.1
Category 2 – 0.2
Category 3 – 0.3
Category 4 – 0.4
Category 5 – 0.5
Category 5 – 0.6

If the nett score falls within the "buffer zone" (one shot above the CSS for Category 1, two for Category 2 etc) or matches the CSS a handicap will not change. If a player returns a higher nett score than this their handicap will increase by 0.1. No matter how high a score is, a handicap will only go up by 0.1. If a card is not returned (No Return or NR) the handicap will also go up by 0.1.

Competitions/Matches

Tynemouth Golf Club runs many club competitions throughout the week and at weekends. They vary in format and the club endeavours to cater for golfers of all abilities. Some will be run at the club, others may involve playing at other clubs, through alliances and local leagues – speak to your Club Secretary/Manager for further information.

• Medal Competitions – Scratch

This is where only gross scores count, handicaps are not taken into consideration. This format is normally used for category 1 golfers. The Club Championship for the Men, Ladies and Juniors would usually use this format.

• Medal Competitions – Handicap

This is the format most commonly used by golf clubs for their monthly medals and other medal competitions. A player subtracts their handicap away from the total shots taken to give their nett score. The players will be split into categories based on their handicap, there are normally four divisions (see page 17 for more info).

• Stableford Competitions

This is a popular format for competitions, as one or two bad holes do not stop you competing as per the medal format. Rather than the number of shots for the hole, you have a points system.

Points are awarded in the following way:

- | | |
|---------------------------------|----------|
| • Above bogey | 0 points |
| • Bogey (1 shot over par) | 1 point |
| • Par | 2 points |
| • Birdie (1 shot under par) | 3 points |
| • Eagle (2 shots under par) | 4 points |
| • Albatross (3 shots under par) | 5 points |

Your shots are based on your handicap as follows;

- A player off 6 handicap gets a shot at the holes with stroke index 1–6.
- A player off 18 handicap gets a shot at each hole.
- A player off 24 handicap gets 2 shots at stroke index holes 1–6 and 1 shot at stroke index holes 7–18.

• Foursomes

In this format players (in pairs) hit alternate shots. Each player will hit 9 tee shots and then take it in turns until holing out. It is a quick format of golf as players can walk ahead to a point near to where their partner will hit the ball. You can either play in medal or Stableford format.

• Greensome

This format is very similar to foursomes, the difference being that both players tee off at each hole, then pick one of the players drives (normally the best one) and the other player then plays and in turn from there until holing out.

• Texas Scramble

This is played in a 3 or 4 player team format. You all tee off, all the players hit their second shot from where the best drive landed, then all hit a 3rd shot from where the best 2nd shot finished and so on until the hole is completed.

• Match Play

A form of competition in which each hole is a separate competition, players can either win, lose or halve a hole, the winner is determined by the number of holes won rather than the gross, nett or stableford score. Once a player is up by a number of holes and there are less holes left to play then they have won, i.e. 5 up with 4 holes to play, the player has won 5 & 4. If a match is all square at the end then you may need to play extra holes until there is a winner, referred to as sudden death.

• Knock out Competitions

Using the match play format, most clubs will run a variety of knock out competitions, these can either be singles, foursomes, better ball, mixed or for handicap categories.

The Player Pathway

In England there are coaching and playing opportunities known as the player pathway from schools to national squads, with opportunities available at club, county and national level.

Important Tips

Code of conduct

- Respect your fellow golfers.
- Be courteous at all times.
- Play fair and honest.
- Listen, learn and try to improve.
- Practice hard.

- Look smart, be polite and stay healthy.
- Treat others as you expect to be treated yourself.
- Be a role model to juniors.

Etiquette

In golf the way you behave on and off the course is very important. Good behaviour is called 'etiquette'. It is important for three reasons:

- To make sure you are safe.
- To make sure you look after the course.
- To make sure you don't hold up players behind you.

Preparation to play

You will always play better if you are prepared to play and are not rushing:

- Try to arrive at least 30 minutes before you are due to play.
- Get to the first tee 5 minutes before your tee time.
- Always count the number of clubs in your bag, no more than 14!
- Warm up by stretching and hitting some practice balls/putts before playing.
- Shake hands and introduce yourself to your playing partner(s).
- Put a mark on your ball, such as your initials or a coloured dot, so that you know it is yours.
- Have tees, a ball marker and a pitch mark repairer in your pocket ready to use.
- Get a drink, thirst leads to mental fatigue!
- Refer what should be in your bag, information on page 12.
- Check local rules (usually on the back of a scorecard).

Respect

Show respect for your opponent(s) by removing your hat when you shake hands at the end of the game, whether you have won or not!

Pre-shot routines

- Keep it brief.
- Choose a shot you feel you can achieve.
- Focus on a point where you are hitting the ball.
- Keep thoughts on your technique to a minimum.
- Commit to the shot.

On the Green

- Always repair your pitchmark, if you can't find your own, repair another.
- Lift don't drag your feet to avoid making spike marks.
- Offer to attend the flagstick for your opponent.
- Mark your ball if it is in the way of another player's line to the hole.

Safety first

- Always remember that golf is dangerous if certain rules are not observed.
- Be aware of other players and where they are in relation to you.
- Stand a safe distance from anyone swinging their club, they may not know you are there. Never step in front of the hitting line or tee.
- Make sure you have room to swing your club. Never swing a club towards someone else.

- Shout "FORE!" immediately if you think your ball may hit someone.
- Duck and cover your head if you hear "FORE!" shouted at you and face away from where the shout has come from.

If you follow these tips you are more likely to enjoy your round of golf and so are other golfers.
