

What it is all about?

My name is Chris Yeaman. I had a sledging accident on Boxing Day when I was seven. I was out sledging with friends when I hit a fence which caused damage to my liver. I was in and out of hospital for four years until I was 11, at which point I was told I would need a liver transplant.

Since then I have had to have another one due to unforeseen problems. During those two life saving operations a lot of people have helped me along the way. This tournament is my chance to give back to them for everything they have given me.

The Christopher Yeaman Junior Annual Charity Trophy has raised lots of money for the hospitals and organisations who helped me and my family during my time in hospital and also other worthy charities. The event is a fun day for all involved and helps great causes at the same time.

Any forms of sponsorship are always greatly appreciated, whether it is cash donations or even some raffle prizes. The Charities who will benefit this year are Cancer Research UK and Edinburgh Children's Hospital Charity.

You can request an entry form for the event should you wish to enter a team. Please give some consideration to this tournament as I believe these causes deserve your attention.

Thank you,
Chris Yeaman Jnr.
