

PANNAL GOLF CLUB

HARROGATE ADVERTISER REPORT

Now in the second week since golfers in England have been allowed to resume playing golf, Pannal members have quickly become used to the new temporary protocols. With just 36 players on the course at any one time, sub-three hour rounds have become the new norm. It is incredible how ground conditions have changed since the wet autumn and winter, with plenty of run on the ball now. There was a certain irony though that the early part of the bank holiday weekend saw gale force winds and occasional squally showers in contrast to the calm and fine weather during the two months that the course was closed.

Given that most players have not been able to swing a club during that time, a degree of rustiness and inconsistency is somewhat inevitable. It was therefore great news that our Professionals Dave and Martin Padgett have been given the green light to resume coaching again. The PGA are now allowing their PGA members to give lessons outdoors on a one to one basis with strict social distancing guidelines in place. If you would like to book a lesson, please contact the Golf Shop on 01423 872620.
